We are all Connected

Alberni Hall – Session Room

Marine shipping is a complex and connected business, where the business decisions of one element will drive the decisions of another element. Infrastructure must match vessels and fuel needs while operations must consider impacts now and into the future. This session brings together the elements of shipping to discuss how they are working together, the changes they are facing and what the future could or should hold.

Moderator:

Robert Lewis-Manning, President and CEO, Greater Victoria Harbour Authority

Panelists:

- Doug Smith, CEO, DP World
- John Jack, Indigenous representative, Huu-Ay-Aht
- Additional panelist to be announced
