Who Attends the Ports Canada Trade Show

Bigger, better, more spaces, more opportunities to connect.

Every year, Ports Canada welcomes delegates from all segments of the marine sector from upper management to operations to include CEOs, Board members, decision makers and policy roles.

- Ports, shipyards, vessel operators
- Indigenous representatives and government agencies
- Logistics and support, supply chain
- Marine services and suppliers
- Marine safety and security
- Education and training organisations
- Innovation and research
- Cruise and tourism
- Global thought leaders

A three-day annual event held in September attracting more than 250 delegates, it currently offers a two-day program, a B2B trade show and multiple network-building events.

What's New this Year

Expanded Trade Show and Pitch Stage

This year's trade show will welcome a range of products, services and efficiency solutions in a large ballroom setting with more premium booths in the conference area.

Our new pitch stage will provide plenty of opportunities for delegates to see the latest innovations and solutions presented by some of our exhibitors and sponsors. Premium exhibitors and top level sponsors will have the opportunity to make a 10-15 minute slide presentation from the podium during designated conference breaks.

More guaranteed traffic

- A seating area will invite participants to network and eat meals in the trade show hall.
- CEO Exclusive Reception and Welcome Reception will be held in the trade show hall.
- Four premium booths are next to buffet tables giving exhibitors there high visibility.

Conference App

- Each exhibitor will have a listing with a link to your website.
- Map of the conference and trade show hall will make it easy for delegates to find you.
